Demystifying Stewardship | Why I'm Involved

Written by Barbara Vacchieri

My spiritual journey with the church reaches back to when I was a kid going to church on Sunday morning with my mother and brothers. I remember going to different churches. I think this was my mom's way of looking for where we belonged.

My earliest memory of belonging was going on a big bus to a youth group and my big brother yelling, "See you later, Jesus freak!" How he got out of it was not for me to understand, and honestly, I didn't care. I was excited to be going to learn about God. As I got older and not needing my brothers or mother to go with me to worship, I set out on my journey looking for a place I felt as if I was amongst family. Growing up in Alaska we had two choices of a Catholic church which were both part of the same diocese. At this time I chose to remain part of the Catholic church. I'm in high school now so I was quick to seek out a youth group and to try out for the choir.

Moving forward, I am a new mom and my daughter is growing fast. It was our Aunt Lauren and Uncle Bobby who introduced us to Saint James' by inviting Bethany to go to Bible Camp. I was already attending a Catholic church, but "What harm can it do?", plus this was an opportunity for Bethany to have some fun. After a few days I could see Bethany was beside herself with excitement. Not surprised, being that she was with her aunt, uncle, and cousins. So now I'm curious to what exactly the Episocal church is about and what's the difference, coming from a Catholic church. I found myself reading about it online and getting a gist of what is an Episocpalian.

What was I thinking? I had my better understanding of the church right in front of me. Who better to ask than our aunt and uncle?

Now Steve and I attend a service with Bethany. I'm quite familiar with the liturgy, but I was in for a huge surprise. There was a woman minister up there! My aunt failed to mention that, or did I miss that? That's huge growing up Catholic. I had never understood the Catholic church and why there were no women up there, and why they were not able to marry. After all, God would want them to be happy.

Being at Saint James' for the first time, I was hit with an overwhelming feeling I'd found my new church (home). The feeling of belonging and kindness was amazing. I could hear the bells going off in my head. I could see now what Bethany was talking about. My family and I have been attending Saint James' for 9 years now. I am very proud to have been confirmed with my daughter Bethany. Now we are Episcopalians!

It would be a mistake not to talk about being more involved in the church, not just attending and putting a few dollars on the offering plate, although that is important. I would volunteer when they asked and to cook for the youth group when needed. I knew there was more to this but what? That's when Jennifer (Choir Director) asked if I would consider, nope it went down more like you really need to join the vestry. Scary right? I am now part of the vestry and writing to you to tell you that It was just as explained by many former members of the church.

Whew, no surprises! I do have a confession, even though I'm not Catholic: being asked to write about my experience, I was terrified. My biggest fear was I would never have enough words to fill a page let alone to be considered an article in the newsletter. Well, here we are!

There are many more reasons I come to Saint James' that could never be confined into words on a paper. I like that they give back to the community. One of our recipients of our generosity is near and dear to my heart, and that's giving back to the schools. Next year this is a feat that I am going to help, and may be in charge of one day, which is getting those donations for the schools. After all, how hard can it be to follow my passion for our schools and children to have supplies for the new year? There are many other outreach programs that Saint James' contributes to that would make anyone proud to belong to this community.

I'd like to leave you more with a heart warming thank you to all who have been mentors to my daughter Bethany. From Day One to the present time Saint James' has never faltered in bringing the good word of our Lord, but it's more than that for our family: It's our feeling of belonging.

This is part of a series for 2023, written by current members of the vestry. It is our goal through these monthly messages to share what Stewardship means to each of us.

Parish Tree Trimming

Recently, St. James' had three large trees on campus trimmed. Here are before and after pictures taken by parishioner Bruce Roberts.

Thank you to all those to helped make this happen, keeping our campus safe and maintaining our beautiful trees!

The Election and Ordination of a Bishop

Written by Rev. Lori Walton

The bishop is considered the "Chief Pastor" of the diocese (a geographical area). In the Diocese of California (that's us!) we will be electing a new bishop to serve as our leader.

On December 2, our diocesan convention will gather to elect the next bishop. All canonically resident clergy and delegates elected by each congregation can vote. We have four delegates representing us.

On November 4, you will have a chance to meet the three candidates that are running to be our next bishop. This "meet and greet" event will be held at St. James' from 6:00pm-8:00pm. It will also be live-streamed should you not be able to be with us in person.

On May 5, 2024, we will consecrate and install our new bishop, and she/he will begin leading our diocese.

Since we will be electing a new bishop, it is important to know what a bishop is called to do. The Book of Common Prayer's Ordination of a Bishop and The Episcopal Church's Canons outline the duties of a bishop.

The ordination service asks each person if they believe they are persuaded by God to proclaim the Gospel, to guard the faith, unity, and discipline of the Church, to administer the sacraments, to ordain deacons and priests, and to participate in the ordination of bishops. It further asks if they are called to share in the leadership of the Church throughout the world. In her/his daily life, the bishop is expected to be a faithful pastor and wholesome example for the entire flock of Christ.

Practically speaking, a bishop is to make a visitation to each church every three years as dictated by the canons. On occasion, the bishop may issue a Pastoral Letter to the clergy and people of the diocese and may ask the clergy to read out loud the letter to the congregation. At the diocesan annual convention, the bishop is to report on the "State of the Diocese" and is to include the names of the congregations visited, the number of persons confirmed and received, the names of those admitted into the process to become ordained, and those suspended or deposed from exercising ordained ministry.

One of the symbols of a bishop is a staff, often made of wood. This is similar to the staff held by shepherds as they guide their sheep, ever reminding us that our bishop is our shepherd, leading us into the future to do God's work in the world.

You can learn more about each candidate at the search committee's website: diocalbishopsearch.org

Please pray for the candidates, for our diocese, and for a process that is infused with grace and the Holy Spirit, bringing us the person who will partner with us in ministry.

Lori+

Almighty God, giver of every good gift, by your grace you have called us into one fellowship of faith: Look graciously on the people of the Diocese of California during this time of transition. May we be guided in heart and mind by your Holy Spirit to seek and welcome a faithful pastor who will care for your people and equip us to perform the work of the Church. Grant us, in all our doubts and uncertainties, the grace to ask what you would have us do. Save us from all false choices, that in your light we may see light, and on your path may not stumble; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

VESTRY MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

Submitted by Bev Mosier

The October Vestry meeting was called to order at 7:00pm. Charisma opened with prayer. Last month's Vestry meeting minutes, financial reports, and staff and ministry reports were reviewed and approved.

The Vestry voted to:

- Spend up to $360 from the Maintenance and Repair fund for 5 new combo smoke and carbon monoxide detectors, plus 4-6 smoke detectors.
- Specify options chosen for the 2024 Employee Benefit Policies, in case we hire someone 20 hours or more at some point in the future, e.g., responsibilities for overage children (none), the percentage of insurance St. James 'would assume (0%) providing an allowance for those who waive medical insurance (no).
- Spend up to $500 to purchase "Thank You" cards from Uprinting.com, to be taken from the General Outreach Fund.

The Vestry also discussed:

- Increasing the facility use fee for 12-step groups. We've been charging $25/month/ group since 2019. The proposal is to begin charging $35/month/group in January 2024 to help offset PG&E. bills, etc. This discussion was tabled until the November meeting to give us a chance to look at the entire facilities use fee schedule with an eye for possible modifications. Additionally, it was agreed that we prefer not to have 12-step groups coming any more often than at present, in case other groups who pay more might like to utilize our space, or we want to have special events ourselves.
- The Philadelphia Eleven film will be shown Saturday December 9th at 4:00pm in the sanctuary. Tickets may be reserved through Eventbrite. One parishioner graciously donated the full $500 fee. Additional donations will be used to support female seminarians and deacons with their books and professional expenses. We will set up a temporary special interest fund for this purpose, which will be closed when no longer needed. Marcus and Samir volunteered to spearhead advertising for this event.
- Ongoing thoughts about additional revenue streams. Potential options included fundraisers, strengthening pledging, promoting St. James' to the wider community, exploring external financial resources, (e.g., grants, endowments), paving the area behind the storage sheds for additional parking, then renting the spaces to condo residents, purchasing ADU(s) to set up on our property as rentals, and so on. The Vestry will organize subgroups for stewardship to explore these and other ideas.
- The Bishop candidates' "Meet & Greet" on November 4th, 6:00 – 8:00pm. Vestry members will be involved in various tasks to ensure a smooth process.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:35 and Charisma led us in compline.

The Vestry usually meets on the 3rd Thursday of each month at 7:00 PM. The same pre-pandemic format is being followed as per usual, and meetings are now hybrid with in-person and remote attendees. Draft agendas are published in advance on our parish website.

Prayers We Pray: The Gloria, Part 2

Written by Brian Cochran

"Lord Jesus Christ, Son of God, have mercy upon me, a sinner." —The Jesus Prayer

We pray with words, and we pray in silence, listening, waiting for God to meet us. In this second section of The Gloria prayer, we address the Lord in many ways, and we have two requests.

The Lord in this second part is not God the Father, but rather Jesus the Son. Somehow, God has become a human being; paradoxically the immortal has become mortal. And this is most comforting because it shows God's intimate connection with us humble mortals.

The first line reads "Lord Jesus Christ, only Son of the Father." Here we call Jesus our leader and the specially anointed one, the Christ, or crown prince. Next we declare Jesus to be the only Son of the Father. Seeing the word "only" to mean "there is no other" doesn't make sense here because we too can become children of God (John 1:12). I prefer to substitute "unique" here for "only" followingJoan Chittister, OSB. In this way, we recognize Jesus as one of a kind without taking away our hope of being like him. It also provides room for people of all faiths to become children of God in their ways.

"Lord God." Here we reiterate the divinity of Jesus by using the exact same words as we did for God the Father in the first section of the prayer. And then John the Baptist is quoted, "Look, the Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world!" (John 1:29, 35) With this startling image, we are introduced into the experience of Jesus as self-sacrificing love. Living in the ever-present embrace of the Father (John 1:18), he wants to release us from our alienating sense of aloneness, thinking that we are without the Father, which is our basic sin (Ephesians 2:12).

Our response to this revelation is our first request of the prayer: "have mercy on us." Repeated many time in the Psalms and the Gospels, this prayer is a cry out for help and for forgiveness. May God help us through our Lord Jesus Christ to live in the same love of the Father and the Son. This love is our salvation from ourselves, love poured out as the Holy Spirit within us (Rom. 5:5). We can be transformed by this prayer by including two things: 1) settling into God's presence (as all the prayers and other parts of the service are already helping us to do); and 2) moving our attention from our mind down to our heart. Then we can pray the words in God's presence with all our heart.*

The second request, a more general prayer to hear ("receive") our prayer, follows a reminder that we are not praying to the human Jesus on earth, but rather to the human Jesus who has been exalted to highest honor after his death and resurrection and re-enfolded in his ascension into the Godhead. In this position as not only one with God, but as God, we acknowledge Jesus Christ is everywhere, and Alone as Holy, the Lord, and the Most High, God with the Holy Spirit ever in the splendor ("glory") of the Father.

It is my hope that we can continue to grow in grace as we pay attention to God's glory guided by this beautiful prayer. Lord, have mercy on us.

 Ken Kaisch, Finding God: A Handbook of Christian Meditation*, p. 194. Kaisch says that this prayer, The Jesus Prayer, in its shorter or longer forms, has been prayed by innumerable people over the centuries, as a repetitive meditation and guide to inner stillness and God's presence.*

Third in a series on the prayers of our church.

Looking Back Over 20 Years of McCutcheon Concerts

Written by Bruce Roberts

It was twenty years ago today…No, that was a Beatles song.

Actually, I don't remember the twenty years ago concert, but I have some recollections of John McCutcheon concerts where I took notes. Last year John sang "I Am Ukrainian Now" written with Tom Paxton. And, for Bud Pearson, he sang "He Was a Friend, That's All" from the Cabin Fever album. By the way, Bud coined the name 'Club Saint J.'

Back in 2011 I watched a kindergarten aged Jack Merrell sing along (in full voice) with John when he sang "Kindergarten Wall." John later remarked that he was very pleased with the St. James' crowd; we were engaged in the performance, we sang along with him.

As we have in many subsequent years, many folks pitched in to make the concert a success. Ticket sellers, ticket takers, food preparers, prize donators, snack bar sellers, prize hawkers, dressing room preparers, the set-up team. We need folks to help again this year. See Sylvia Ma, our Team Leader, to sign up for all these fun and easy jobs.

John McCutcheon is a master storyteller as well as song writer. Many of his songs start out with a story about how the idea of a song started, and then he sings the song accompanying himself on one of his many instruments. The requested song (in 2012) "Hope Dies Last" started with a story of his work with Studs Terkel, a song that was completed after Hurricane Katrina.

In 2013, after the concert, I heard someone say, "Where have I been in the past to have missed such a great performance?" 2013 was the first year John placed the hammer dulcimer sideways for us so we could better see the hammers and strings. That year John donated one dollar for each CD/DVD/book sold - to Friends of the Library.

In the past couple of years, John has recorded at least three CDs. I'm sure they will be available for sale at intermission and after the concert. I'm also sure he'll be singing those songs!

Folksinger John McCutcheon's Website: www.folkmusic.com One can buy tickets from the website as well as from our own ticket sellers after our Sunday Services. Cash or credit card. In December tickets will be available on-line from the St. James' Website. Part of the proceeds from ticket sales will be donated to Abode Services and other local charities.

2024 will be our last Left Coast McCutcheon Concert at St. James'. Take advantage of our intimate atmosphere and enjoy a really special concert. More about past concerts next month.
